Americans Have Individual Responsibility To United Nations, Mrs. Roosevelt Says

The outlook for the United Nations has grown considerably better during recent months due to the fact that people are beginning to realize the necessity for peace and the need for collective security in the great desire for survival brought about by the tremendous destructive power of weapons including the H-bomb, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt said in an address before 700 persons Saturday at Russ Auditorium. The lecture was sponsored by the American Association for the United Nations, San Diego Chapter.

The UN however is not functioning to maximum value, Mrs. Roosevelt said, because of a lack of understanding among nations and individuals as to its aims and concepts for collective security. The UN is not a super government, she said, but machinery which depends upon the way peoples of the world supervise it.

The UN has active participation of peoples of the world and all we can hope for, Mrs. Roosevelt said, is that the machinery will work well and that people will grow to better understanding and acquire habits of peace. Before, she pointed out, nations have used force, now that force is too great and total destruction can occur. That is why it is necessary for the UN machinery to work, she added.

Purpose of the UN is to bring peoples of the world together to talk, she explained, and by talking and understanding their problems it is possible to come to common solutions. These solutions take time, she pointed out, but out of variety can come unity and that is the hope for the UN.

America is the focal point of all nations comprising the UN and "we must have patience, courage, vision and determination to make the UN work," Mrs. Roosevelt said.

The USSR is impeding progress to a disarmament parley, she said, and closer relations can follow only by bringing constant pressure on those who rule in the Kremlin. "We must stay alert and announce over and over again we are willing to negotiate toward achieving collective security," Mrs. Roosevelt said.

"However we should not blindly accept any Soviet Union proposition. We must closely examine any offers because it is very difficult to know what goes on behind the Iron Curtain. We must learn to outwit our enemies."

Strengthening the UN as a tool for world peace is an individual responsibility, Mrs. Roosevelt said. Each of us in the United States paints a picture of our country to others throughout the world, she said. This picture, Mrs. Roosevelt continued, shows what the people of the US really want the UN to become.

Mrs. Roosevelt urged Americans to join the American Association for United Nations and take a real interest in working for understanding and cooperation by reading about the UN organization, finding things which particularly interest one as an individual such as UNESCO or the World Children's Fund and work for them.

If each of us here in America does just this, Mrs. Roosevelt said, the outlook for the UN will be better than ever and then each individual will feel he is doing something for his children and the future children of the world.

Clark Eichelberger, National Executive Director of AAUN accompanied Mrs. Roosevelt on her visit to San Diego. He spoke briefly concerning the goals for the present AAUN membership drive throughout the country.

Eichelberger said the purpose of these regional conferences throughout the country for the AAUN is to increase the number of chapters, to encourage cooperation among other organizations that endorse the UN and to get a great many new individual memberships in the crusade for world understanding and cooperation. Membership in the local AAUN Chapter may be made by calling BELmont 3-3970, Room 16, House of Hospitality, Balboa Park.

At the close of her speech, Mrs. Roosevelt presented US Defense Bonds to winners of the Annual Essay Contest conducted in all High Schools throughout the city and county for the local AAUN Chapter. Two of the winners were Helix High students, Helen Hommersand received a $50 Savings bond and Fred E. Hearth a $25 bond.

Lakeside Jammed By Rodeo Crowd

Traffic on highways leading to Lakeside showed the great interest created by the Lakeside Rodeo held Saturday and Sunday. Cars were backed up for three blocks in El Cajon as people waited to make the left turn to Lakeside. Cecil Mathis, rodeo director, reported the crowd was the largest to attend a Rodeo in the County for twenty-five years. He said that the result has encouraged him to make plans for other similar events. As the plans are now, the Lakeside Arena will see three more rodeos from now to December. Other events are also being considered.

The estimated attendance was 5,000 on Saturday and 6,500 on Sunday. Streets in Lakeside were in some instances so crowded that people turned back.

About 150 contestants vied for the $6000 in prize money. Prizes were awarded in six events during the two days. The winners were:

Calf roping, two day average. 1st, Barney Willis, 29.9 sec. average, from Napa, Cal. 2nd, Buckshot Sorrells 30.1, Newhall. 3rd, Phil Rawlins, 34.6, San Fernando. 4th, Del Haverty, 37.6, Benson, Ariz.

Team Roping two day average. 1st, Simon and Billy Hogue, Holtville. 2nd, Johnny Blackwell and Nate Byfield both from Cam-po. 3rd, Barney Willis and Holloway Grace, Newhall. 4th, Lawrence Rigging, Ventura, and Sonny Tureman, Oregon.

Bull Dogging, two day average.

1st, Don Happy, 14.1 sec., Newhall. 2nd, C. R. Jones, 16.3, La Mesa. Phil Rawlins, 22.1, 4th, Ralph Stockell, 27.5, N. Hollywood.

Bare Back Bronc riding, five prize positions. 1st, Casey Tibbs, Fort Pierce, S. D. 2nd, Steve Johnson, Fresno. 3rd, 4th and 5th money was split between Del Haverty, Tom Downey, Long Beach and Jim Davis of Phoenix.

Saddle Bronc riding. 1st, Don Toelle, Burns, Oregon. 2nd, Chuck Sheppard, Prescott, Ariz. 3rd, Jack Hara, Clayton. Dick Pascoe, Kernville, and Tuffy Feder, Cheyenne, tied for 4th.

Bull riding. 1st, Ed Barze, Pasadena. 2nd, Glen Fike, Long Beach. 3rd, Bob Martin, Long Beach. 4th, Don Adams, Newhall. 5th, Bob Maynard, N. Hollywood.

Johnny Hatley of 585 N. Johnson, El Cajon, was in fourth place in bull dogging Saturday, but lost out for the prize money Sunday. Hatley plays tackle for the Chicago Bears during the football season.

The Rodeo was sponsored by the Lakeside Chamber of Commerce.

Crowd pleasing action like the bronc riding cowboys above will soon be back in the Lakeside Arena, according to Cecil Mathis, Rodeo Director. The turn-away crowd which gathered at the arena Saturday and Sunday convinced Mathis that the championship rodeo is in Lakeside to stay. He said that he has tentative plans for three more such events this year. The rodeo, the first in several years, drew a crowd of 6,500 Sunday.

Machine To Locate In Telephone Lines

An experimental machine that tests for trouble on telephone lines three times faster than former methods has proved successful in extensive tests conducted at the company's San Diego main office.

Developed by Pacific Telephone switchmen in Los Angeles, the electronically-operated machine has been working in the local office for nearly a year. It checks each subscriber's line in the office every night.

In case the lines have been damaged by rain, wind, or other elements, the subscriber's telephone number is printed immediately on a tape for benefit of company testmen.

Ralph Mackay, wire chief in the office, says it frequently finds trouble and enables company splicers and repairmen to fix it before the subscriber is aware anything is wrong.

During the recent rains, 50 cases of trouble were found in the main office, 23 of which were fixed before the subscriber called the repair desk.

Blueprints of the machine have been turned over to the Western Electric Company, manufacturing unit of the Bell System, which now is producing them for offices throughout the country. They will cost $600 apiece.

It looked fine, too, but the next day you had a painful shoulder that just about ruined all your pride of achievement. You decided, perhaps, that you weren't made for that kind of work, and, in a way, you were right. It's one of the many troubles we made for ourselves when we decided to get up on our hind legs and use our front paws for hands.

Hooked up between your shoulder blade and the big bone of the upper arm is a little muscle with a job that is sometimes too big for it. Its long name — supraspinatus — isn't much help when it has to work all day keeping the arm bone in its socket against the pull of gravity. Holding the arms up and out puts a constant strain on the muscle and its tendon.

And every arm movement we make pinches the tendon between the shoulder blade and

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Congress is now considering what is termed greatest forward step for the welfare of independent business ever undertaken in the Republic's history.

Senator Edward J. Thye (Rep., Minn.) Select Senate Small Business Committee Chairman has introduced Senate Resolution No. 213 to make this committee a standing committee.

In discussing this proposed action a review of history and Congressional procedure is enlightening.

There are 15 Committees known as Standing Committees, clothed with legislative authority. In actual practice, standing committees decide on proposed legislation. Unless a bill is approved by the proper committee, it seldom has a chance of getting passed.

There are also other committees, some permanent in nature, such as present Senate Small Business Committee. But these committees, while they investigate, and make recommendations, have no legislative authority.

For more than four years the permanent Senate Small Business Committee has performed brilliant work. Shortly after it was organized as a permanent committee the Korean War started, and it is the belief of many that during the critical period of material allocations and priorities, American small business might have succumbed if it had not been for the outstanding work of this committee.

As a comparison Agriculture not only is represented by a cabinet officer, but also by Standing Agriculture Committees in both the House and Senate. Any bill affecting farmers must first be examined, investigated and voted on by these committees.

Yet, according to last Commerce Department report there are only 3,700,000 farmers and farm managers in the nation, while the number of small or independent business enterprises is placed at 4,000,000.

Labor is another Standing Committee which deals with all legislation affecting labor.

Actually, the only important segment of the American economy not given safeguard of Standing Committee is independent small business, yet not a week passes that a bill is introduced which has a vital effect on the welfare of small business.

It is to the credit of the Select Senate Small Business Committee and its counterpart in the House, that more legislation detrimental to independent business welfare has not slipped through the last four years. But only by vigilance and hard work have these committees performed so much service for the nation.

It is also a tribute to the fair viewpoint toward independent business problems by Congress as a whole, that recommendations of the present committees have been considered before final voting on the floor.

However, the welfare and interests of the nation's 4,000,000 small business firms is felt to fully merit the attention of a standing committee.

Therefore, approval of Senate Resolution No. 213 will give American small business the security at the legislative level which modern conditions necessitate with a standing committee as a full fledged watchdog.

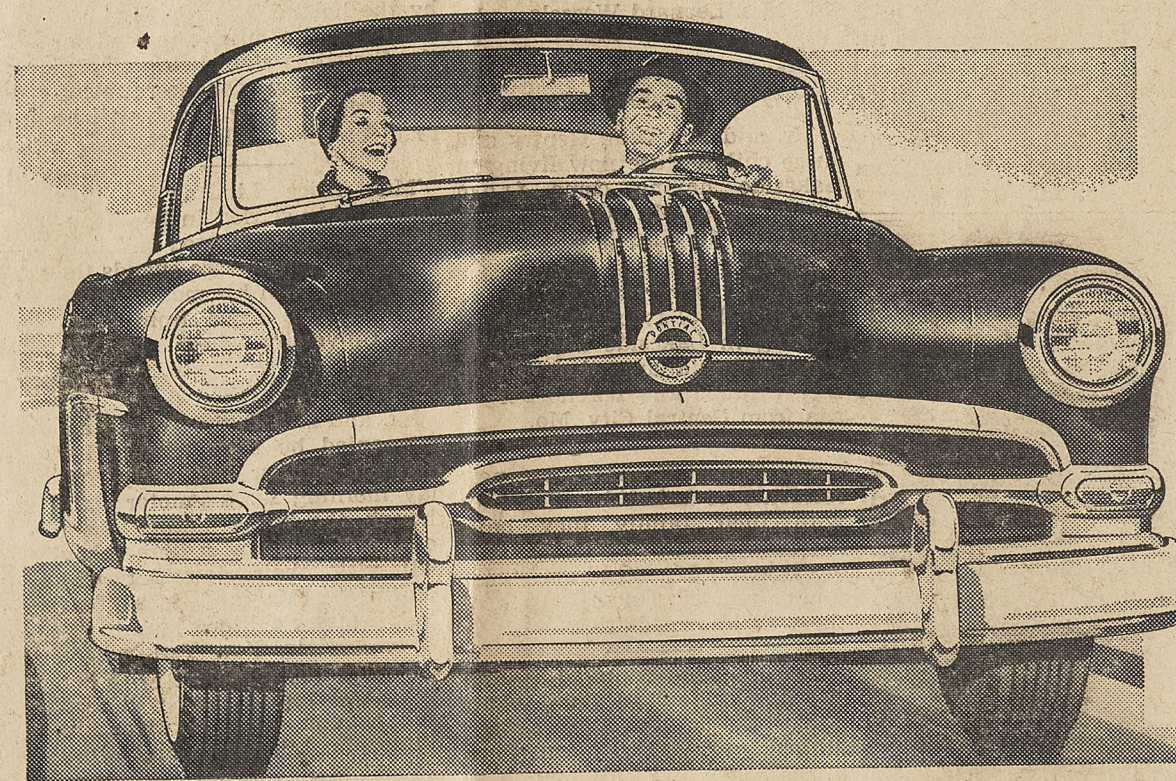

clear up quickly.

As an exercise for bursitis doctors frequently suggest bending over with the arm relaxed and then swinging it like a pendulum from front to back, side to side, and round and round. You can do this in a bending position even though, standing straight, you couldn't move the arm because of the pain. You may feel foolish, but in a few weeks your shoulder will probably be as good as new.

(This column is sponsored, in the interest of better health, by the San Diego County Tuberculosis and Health Association and this newspaper.)

Of course, every painful shoulder does not mean bursitis. The safe course is to consult your doctor if shoulder pain does not

Timothy Does Alright At Fishing But Not So Well At Hunting

It took a heap of rain one year to get us a bridge over Little Owl River; just time in the memory of old timers when there wasn't some way of gettin' back and forth without swimmin' or goin' way to Springview to git across on the toll bridge. But we had more'n plenty of rain durin' the spring and a flash flood in the summer that sure played Hob.

Well sir, this here rain rose the creek that run thru' Winterfield's farm from a right sizeable trickle to a rampagin' mill-race that washed out all the flood gates and flooded Winterfield's pasture. When the water went down there was big puddles all around full of little no-count fishes. We never knowed whether Timothy figured they was fiten to eat or if he jest naturally didn't like to see something goin' to waste, but he took a bucket and marched off to the pasture to do some fishin'. He come back pretty soon with his bucket full of little flappin' mud-cats and such.

He pulled up a stool off the porch and set himself down and started scrapin' fish. There was a passel of cats lived in the barn, and soon as they smelled the fish they come hot-footin' it down to Timothy. They swarmed around, climbin' up his legs, yowlin' and fittin' each other. When they'd git in his way, he'd slap at 'em with his hat and go on scrapin'. Pretty soon he got 'em all on-scaled and danged if he didn't throw the whole mess on the ground and his hat too and yelled, "There you be, you dam' cannibals. Eat your fill of 'em; there's no scales to scrape your guts on now" and he come stompin' back to the porch with his stool.

Sometimes it was kinda hard to figure out why Timothy done the things he done.

They had a few hills of roastin' ears near the house that year, and didn't take the crows long to find it out, and they come in droves, seemed like. Lucy'd been fussin' at Timothy to do something about it, and this day looked like her patience come to an end. So she fetched the fambly's old muzzel loadin' rifle down off the settin'-room wall. She come out on the porch with it in her hand jest as Timothy come up with the stool from feedin' the cats, and 'bout scared the wits out of him lookin' cross as she was. But he got real manly and grabbed it away from her and 'lowed he'd do any shootin' there was to be done around there. Who was she goin' to shoot anyways? She fussed and argued like a strong-minded female will, but finally give in and went back to her rag-rug makin'. Timothy picked up the stool again and carried it and the gun out under the maple tree, then he come back for the wash bench and carried that out too. Then he went to the barn. When he come back with the old gun he set the stool on the bench, and climb up to wait for the crows.

Lucy was curious so she kept an eye on the window, and pretty soon she saw Timothy take aim. Jest as she got to the door the gun went off, and so did Timothy and the stool, right over backwards onto the ground. The old gun was loaded and Timothy had packed her full of goodness knows what else and she kicked like an old brass cannon.

"My sides," exclaimed Lucy. "What air you tryin' to do to yourself, and you with a clean shirt on. Jest look at the back of you. I declare . . ." and away she sent jawin' and fussin'.

"I aimed to git me some crows," sez Timothy, "so I jest loaded her up good, 'sall." "Land of goshen! I loaded her up good myself, 'fore you took over. Peers like a jack-ass 'stead of a crow 'bout got kilt 'round here," and Lucy took the gun and tromped back to the house.

Like I sez, sometimes it kinda hard to figure folks out.

School's Weather Problems Discussed

Frank, Brown, superintendent of the Alpine School District, was the guest speaker at the Thursday night meeting of the Harbison Canyon Community Club. Superintendent Brown was invited to be present to explain why the Alpine schools close during some rainy weather.

Closing the school, Brown said, is tied with the Average Daily Attendance upon which the State allocates funds to school districts. Alpine gets a certain sum, about $1.25, for each student in attendance each day. The total amount naturally varies according to the number of students attending any given day. The cost of running the school, however, is relatively constant. It costs as much to heat a school for half the students as it does for all of them. Teachers are on contract and salaries are not cut when there are fewer children in school.

The Alpine School District, Brown said, serves a wide territory much of which is not accessible during wet weather. Brown said that in California, the school children do not always have the heavy weather resistant clothing that they have in the east. Therefore, parents are reluctant to send very young children to school during rains if they have long distances to walk to get the bus.

Brown said that the district could lose as much as five hundred dollars if school is held for a few pupils on days when it is raining. The day is then made up later in the year. This year, the three days that were skipped will be made up during the week of spring vacation.

Harry Rice, president of the Community, presided over the meeting and coffee and doughnuts were served afterwards.

3rd Quarter Over At Grossmont High

Third quarter drew to a close at Grossmont High School on April second, and the fourth and final quarter began April fifth, according to Harry C. Riley, principal.

Report cards will be sent to the parents through the students and a second copy will be given to the counselors who study the progress of each student. Grades are given for achievement in school subjects, and citizenship ratings are made on the following factors: social concern, inquiring mind, responsibility, and work habits.

"Living House" Goes On Display Sunday Seniors To Present At Severin Manor. 4 Rooms, 2 Baths The Curious Savage

The "Living House" — combining for the first time the features of a high-cost luxury home with a low price — will be open for public inspection Sunday, April 11 in Severin Manor, it was announced yesterday by Nels G. Severin, president of the Severin Co.

"After years of planning, we have brought together what we consider one of the most outstanding talent-teams in the nation, and the result is the 'Living House,' a luxurious family home for modern living," Severin said.

"It has four bedrooms, or three bedrooms and a den, and two full baths, and includes special features throughout. Nevertheless, it costs only $13,700, with a down payment of $695 for veterans, and monthly payments of $67.15. Non-veteran financing will be F.H.A."

Two models of the "Living House," completely furnished, will be open from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. every day, beginning this Sunday, he said. Immediate plans call for 60 of the homes to be built in Severin Manor, located northwest of Grossmont High School.

Thirteen different elevations and floor plans of the "Living House" are available.

Seniors at Grossmont High School will present their annual play April 8 and 9 at 8:00 p. m. in the Grossmont auditorium.

The play this year is a modern comedy, The Curious Savage by John Patrick. The play, a Broadway hit in 1950, is directed by Robert Baumgartner of the drama department.

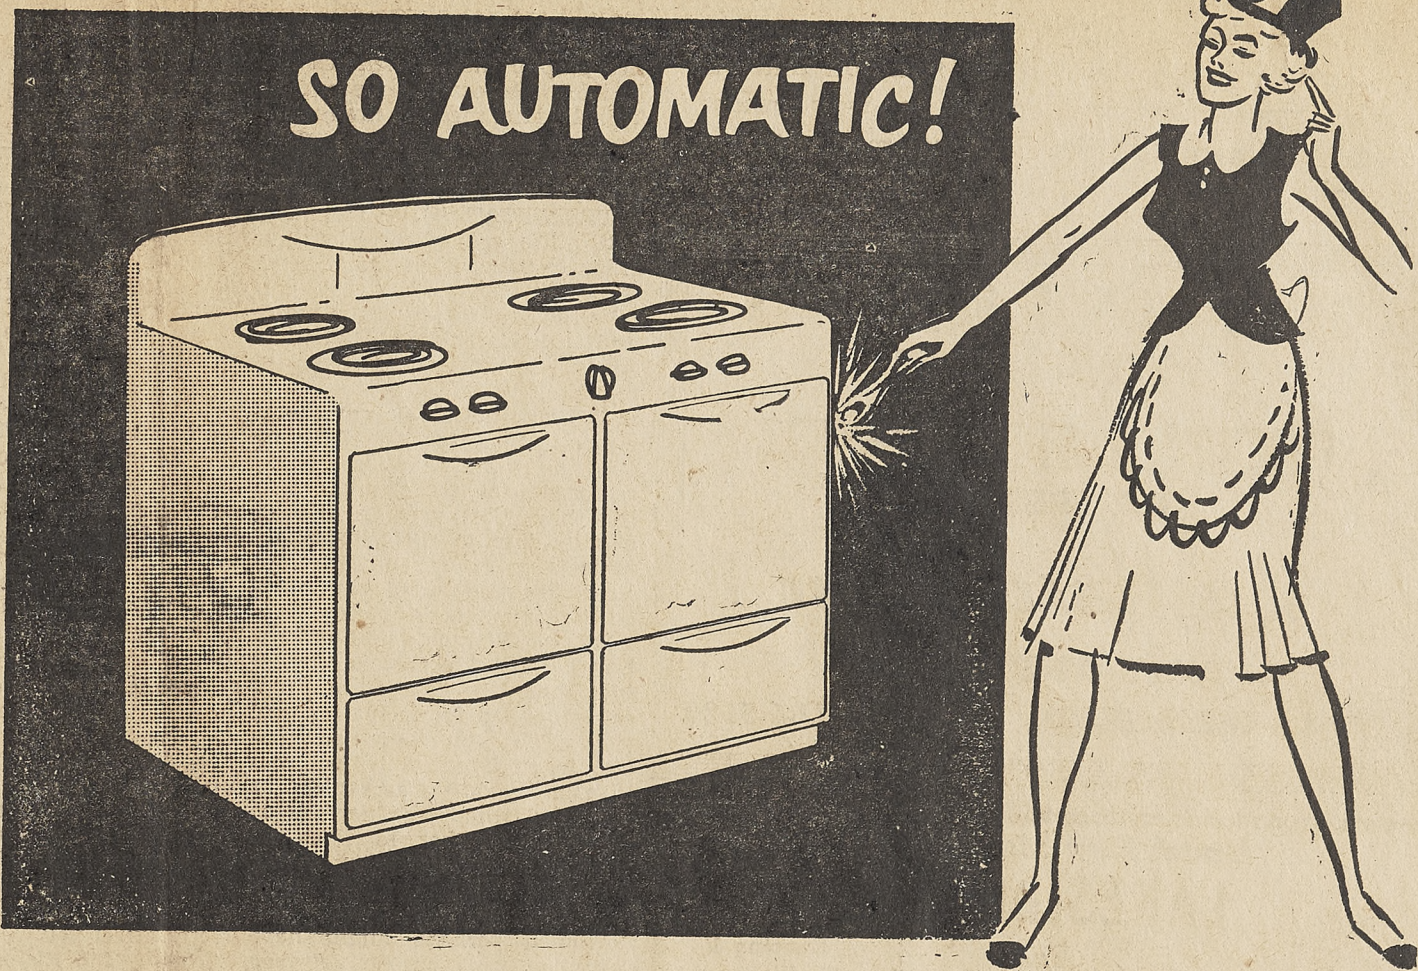

The play centers about what Mrs. Savage does with the $10,000,000 she inherited when her husband died. Her problems are numerous, since some step children are eager to "help" with the money.

Cast in the play are the following seniors:

Sheila Patterson, Elizabeth Rice, Diane Morgan, Dick Homouth, Cynthia Cook, Jack Schuster, John Trumbull, Carolyn Cook, Mike Dearmin, Paula Thomas, Leonard Hall, Joan Peterson, and David Groce.

— EDITORIALY SPEAKING —

It is important that we choose wisely when we vote for City Elections, but it is vastly more important to choose wisely when we vote for a School Trustee.

Throughout Eastern San Diego County citizens are filing for positions on various school boards. Their qualifications should be known to the voters before long. A careful perusal of these qualifications should be mandatory on each voter.

We do not want the hysterical pressure group which advocates abolishment of the map system, whereby the Soviet Union is displayed as being larger than the United States (Yes, this is an actual documented report. One such group took issue with a school board because the maps displayed to the students indicated the Soviet Union was larger in area than the United States of America). This type of pressure group would stifle all education, except that which teaches Americanism. As a consequence, the children of this country would have no comparison.

On the other hand, we would have no pressure group which advocated the United States accept the doctrine of Sovietism or any other "ism".

The members of our school boards will be be-seiged with many demands in the next critical year. They will be subject to many pressures and they must be men and women of high moral character and high resolve. Our children will suffer if this is not so.

Our schools should be above petty differences and personal argument.

Elect those who best fit the tradition that our schools remain free from cranks, one-way groups, "ism" outfits and the like. Elect free men with free thoughts.

Open Letter

An Open Letter to My Fellow Voters:

Hello There,
 Election Day is just one week away, so perhaps we can discuss some things that are important to the consideration of that election. I believe it most important that there be good support between citizens and their city council. One of my hopes for some time has been that we might regularly establish the open forum and town hall meetings . . . once a month perhaps . . . where the people of El Cajon and their representatives might discuss together in open meeting some of the problems facing them, and their solution. It would certainly do much to keep us more aware of current situations and stimulate citizen interest in Government participation.

Too often, after election, we find a barrier between city representatives and citizenry to the point where they almost seem to square off in opposite corners. This should not be. A closer contact might prevent this. It's quite true, perhaps, that councilmen portray good citizenship when they run for an office that takes so much more of their time and effort than for which they might receive monetary return . . . however, it is also a great privilege to be asked to serve his fellow citizens. It is also a sacred trust. At no time, should personal interest, material or other considerations every interfere in the first primary consideration, that being the welfare of the people. It's true, that there is an old "saw" about "we can't please everyone," but I have an old motto to that has carried me through most difficulties. Shakespeare's, "To thine own self be true, it must follow as the night the day, thou canst not then be false to any man." I believe very firmly that we have reached a turning point in El Cajon's growth. How we proceed from here can make the difference between success and mediocrity. We can no longer serve the City of El Cajon with representative government if the only people to represent us are busy, businessmen who, pressed for time with the ever demanding task of constantly improving their establishments in the race of keen competition with their competitors, do not have the time to properly consider the problems and the needs of the people. It has also been said that being in business makes it difficult to serve as honest servants of the people. Decisions made under pressure of "will it hurt business?" are not always the best decisions. If they are good for the people, they sometimes are bad for business and visa versa. This does not mean to imply that businessmen do not make good councilmen. Not at all. It merely says, make your council MORE REPRESENTATIVE by including within it people who are in a position to make decisions without regard to business and who can take the time to study the many and varied problems . . . housewives, homeowners, taxpayers of many interests.

And why not a woman? Women pay taxes, too. In 1776 they used to say that taxation without representation is tyranny. Is it less than that today? Women usually handle their household budgets at home and are considered more economically minded than men. At least they offer a balance. Women might perhaps have agreed that the civic buildings should be grouped on property intended for recreation and park are . . . but they also probably would have pointed out that in a city growing as rapidly as ours and where the need is so great, that other facilities be provided first before eliminating the old, and then proceed with construction.

Women perhaps might have said that we must not let teen agers become an issue . . . that the decision was not "shall we let them fix up an old building to play games in as long as it passes fire laws" . . . but what could we do THEN to provide a suitable youth center for youngsters. With El Cajon acquiring annexation after annexation and the problem of "improvements" becoming a vital one . . . it is well to have different points of view on our city council. Yes, even a woman's point of view . . . so that every possible avenue of consideration might be given to the best possible methods to be used not only for the welfare of the city at large, but in the interests of the property owners and the rest of the people as well.

Next Tuesday, the citizens of El Cajon go to the polls and vote. We would urge that they come out in strong numbers. We would hope that a majority would cast their votes for myself to be one of the 3 Councilmen needed. However, regardless of the way the vote will go . . . we would urge that they make it a representative vote. Before concluding, one more comment. Much as been made of the need for unity within the City Council and that a woman might disturb that unity. I disagree, that any woman, as such, could do this . . . however, I would like to point out that unity at any price, unity derived at the expense of the people, is a unity one might better do without!

Good Voting!

Cordially,

Zella Crown.

U.S.A. Incorporated

Do you get a thrill each time you come over the rim of the hills and get that breath taking view of our beautiful El Cajon Valley? I have lived in El Cajon for fifteen years and I still get that feeling of beauty and peace each time I come over Grossmont Summit or look down on El Cajon from on top of Mt. Helix. It is easy, in the routine of our daily lives, to forget that we are privileged in an area that is thought of by many people in other parts of the country as a vacationland supreme, a Utopia.

Where else in the world but in Southern California can you find such a variety of scenic landscapes? Where each few miles brings a new and different setting. We are truly in a land more fruitful and temperate than any "Promised Land." We have the mountains with their majestic forests of peace and solitude, snow capped peaks and sparkling lakes. We have the endless expanse of the desert that never ceases to be a source of change and a delight to naturalists. We have the rushing, pounding surge of the surf on our coastline, some of it splendid beaches, other parts scenic and rocky. Trout, bass, yellowtail and swordfish make this county a paradise for fishermen. Hunters find deer not ten miles from El Cajon.

The mountains, the ocean, the desert are all part of your wealth. You are a stockholder in the richest corporation in the world—The United States of America, Incorporated. Divide America's wealth as a nation by the population and you will get an approximate estimate of your share as a stockholder. This is a stock that is really "Preferred," but it is "Common" to all of us with only one voting share to each. Cherish and protect this stock for you cannot spend it but are paid out of its earnings by the enjoyment and pleasure you get from each day's living.

People in other countries have lost their voting stock through national apathy, greed and avarice. They have let their corporation devour itself and be torn apart from within. Protect your share in our democratic corporation by exerting your prerogative as a stockholder. Vote, not just in national elections, but in the community elections that so directly affect you.

Electioneering Up
As Voting Nears

The final week before the City elections, April 13, should see increased efforts by the candidates to win the votes of the electorate. No great difference of opinion has been expressed by the eight candidates as to the needs of the City of El Cajon. The last week of the campaign has been reserved by most of the candidates for their major efforts.

"Burning issues" are lacking from this year's election. On the matter of through city streets, for instance, the candidates agree that more are needed although few solutions have been offered. Lack of money in the city treasury limits the amount of possible street improvements, even on streets of major importance.

Possibly the most active candidate has been Mrs. Zella Crown. Mrs. Crown has an impressive list of civic activities on her record and has been enlisting the women of the city on her behalf. Last week, Mrs. Crown was presented to a group of women at the home of Mrs. Jewell Ammons. Mrs. Crown's position as the only woman in the race should be to her advantage.

Incumbent Councilman Hovey Crandall reported that he will concentrate his efforts for re-election during the last days of the campaign. Friends of his, Crandall said, have been helping him by talking to various people on his behalf.

Paul Bos said that his activity has consisted of talking to various people and friends. The people who urged him to run, Bos said, are also helping him in his bid for election.

Candidate Frank Sladek said that the press of business has kept him from being as active as he would like. He expects to intensify his efforts during this last week of the campaign.

G. Mac Murray Hilton has had leaflets printed and said that he will call on the voters of the city to pass them out. Hilton is relying on direct contact with the people for his major effort.

Hamilton Judy said that he is satisfied with the way the campaign is going. Judy's term as a Cajon Valley School Trustee is over this spring.

Bill Risinger will be present at tomorrow's meeting of the Bostonia Women's Club to explain his views to the members. Risinger said that insurance man, Gil Townsend, is now acting as his campaign manager.

Councilman Robert Steele is running for his second term. He has received active support in his campaign. He was a reluctant candidate and he said that he filed because of the urging of his friends.

GOVERNOR KNIGHT
TO VISIT SAN DIEGO

Gov. Goodwin Knight will be in San Diego, Friday, to give a report on his activities as the State's Chief Executive. He will speak at a noon luncheon in the Hotel San Diego, said Edgar B. Hervey, campaign chairman.

A large delegation from the Valley plan on attending, advises Mrs. Harvey Webber, president of the Republican Women's Club of El Cajon Valley.

Miss San Diego Entries Set Up

Entry dates for the San Diego Junior Chamber of Commerce's "Miss San Diego" Contest have been postponed a week according to Ralph Bos, Contest Publicity Director.

Final day for entering the contest will be Wednesday, April 7, with the preliminaries scheduled for April 8, Bos said.

Any girl, 18 to 23, single and never married, who feels that she is qualified for the contest may register. Contestants are judged on the basis of personality, talent and appearance in an evening gown and bathing suit.

Two Foothills girls are now entered in the contest. Donna Rodia, a Grossmont graduate, is another candidate who will compete with Ann Engfelt and approximately 15 other girls for the 1954 title.

The contest, which has offered several San Diego girls the opportunity to take part in such pageants as the Miss California and Miss America contests, will be held at Balboa Park on April 25.

At press time Miss Rodia could not be reached for comment, but Miss Engfelt said that she was finding the contest quite exciting and that she was happy to be taking part in it. A Helix High School Senior, Miss Engfelt, is a former San Diego Harbor Day Queen and is well remembered in El Cajon as a former Princess of the annual Mother Goose Parade.

Greatest Single Killer of Children Not Disease. It's Traffic Accidents

"Child killer No. 1!" In these words, Fred H. Rohr, President of the San Diego County Traffic Safety Council today labeled traffic accidents the greatest single cause of death among children 1 to 14 years old — a cause that claims hundreds more victims annually than cancer, its closest competitor for this gruesome title.

Speaking on behalf of the current Child Pedestrian and Bicycle Safety program which the Traffic Safety Council is sponsoring, Rohr said, "Contrary to general opinion, neither cancer nor pneumonia, tuberculosis nor polio, takes as high a toll of young lives as traffic accidents."

Quoting statistics for 1950 (the latest year for which figures on deaths from disease are available) Rohr showed that traffic accidents were the leading cause of death among children from 1 to 14 years of age. Traffic accidents claimed 3,655 victims, he said, while cancer accounted for 3,156, pneumonia for 2,821, tuberculosis for 1,263 and polio for 862.

"The great tragedy in this whole picture is that most of this child slaughter on the highways is unnecessary," Rohr said. "In the majority of cases, traffic accidents are due to somebody's carelessness. If we would just substitute careful walking, driving and bike riding for the careless variety so often practiced, the child traffic toll could be reduced sharply over night."

Rohr urged parents and teachers to impress upon youngsters the importance of being alert in traffic, of crossing at cross walks and with traffic lights and of never playing the street.

He made a special plea to motorists to watch out for children whenever they drive. "Youngsters get carried away by play," Rohr said. "Sometimes they forget entirely the real world around them. Motorists should be aware of this and always expect the unexpected from them."

He warned motorists to keep a sharp eye out for children when driving near schools, playgrounds, in residential districts, or whenever else children are likely to be found.

Guest Preacher

The Rev. John Christensen of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, La Mesa, will be the preacher at the Wednesday evening service at St. Alban's Episcopal Church, Farragut Circle and Highland Street, on April 7th. Fr. Christensen was recently appointed as rector at St. Andrew's and his appearance in the pulpit at St. Alban's will afford the members of that Parish an opportunity to hear and know the rector of a Parish that many of them have been friendly with for years. Before coming to La Mesa, Fr. Christensen has seen service in the church in Arizona, Los Angeles and Merced.

Sunday evening, April 11, Dean T. R. Jones, Rural Dean of the San Diego Convocation, will speak at the evening services at St. Alban's. This will be the last of the Lenten services with guest preachers.

Spring Is Here

SPRING IS HERE, and candy is a boy's best bet... for wooing or chewing. And to prove the point, Betty Matson has that come-hither look for her candy giving beau. Candy, too, has its week—March 29-April 5—but its appeal to young and old alike goes on all year long. Candy is good... and if it's your weakness don't worry... if you crave it, that's nature's way of saying "candy is good for you."

Evangelist Picture Featured Thursday

Oiltown, U. S. A., beautiful color, sound motion picture, and latest release from the Billy Graham Evangelistic Association will be shown Thursday, April 8, 1954, 7:30 p. m. in the Lakeside Memorial Building. It was announced today by the Lakeside Community Presbyterian Church.

This feature length motion picture is centered around Billy Graham's evangelistic crusade in Houston, Texas last summer, and not only features the Graham team, but also such outstanding Christian motion picture artists as Colleen Townsend (Evans), Paul Power, Georgia Lee, Robert Clarke, Cindy Walker, Redd Harper and Ralph Ward. Incidental music is supplied by Andy Parker and the Plainsmen and the musical score was arranged by Ralph Carmichael. Dick Ross of Great Commission Films directed and produced the film.

The plot revolves around a rich oil magnate, played by actor Paul Power, and his beautiful daughter, played by actress Colleen Townsend whose wealth and social life have kept them far from the principals of Christianity. Their chance meeting with converts of the Graham crusade begins an unexpected and exciting train of events which go to make a dynamic and appealing religious motion picture.

Oiltown, U.S.A. is actually a sequel to the popular "Mr. Texas" film, another Billy Graham release which has been the means of over 85,000 persons turning to Christianity.

This premier showing is open to the public with no admission charge.

Exposition Program Bulen Backs Fair

Assemblyman Edwin Bulen, Escondido, San Diego County, Chairman of the Subcommittee on Fairs and Expositions, filed with California State Legislature April 2 a report covering a year's study by the committee on the value of Fairs and Expositions to the State of California.

Bulen said, in presenting the report, "Fairs and Expositions are a multimillion dollar business in California; they are presented for six million customers by 670,000 people who participate in the old fashioned Horatio Alger method of success.

"It is these hundreds of thousands of exhibitors that not only make the fairs a multimillion dollar business, they are the ones that make for the high standard of California's agriculture and industry.

"The fairs of California have been an inspiration to the youth of this State by providing convenient places for thousands of them to compete with one another for recognition.

"Our investigations through personal surveys of thousands of fair participants prove that the advanced methods of agriculture are largely due to the 79 District, County, State and Citrus Fruit fairs in California."

Aggressive Law Enforcement Needed Says Candidate For District Attorney

An aggressive, hard-hitting approach to the law enforcement problems of San Diego County and a promise that women will be invited to take an active part in the executive administration of the office, are major planks in the platform of George E. Bryans, candidate for District Attorney.

Bryans, a San Diego resident for 25 years, announced his candidacy today, for District Attorney of San Diego County at the June 8 primary election.

"Women are the moral fiber of the community," Bryans said. "An intelligent, positive approach to law enforcement must of necessity enlist the active participation and support of the women and mothers of the county if it is to be successful. When elected, I promise the citizens of San Diego County that women will have a prominent place in the administration of the affairs of the office," Bryans added.

Strict enforcement of all laws and a more aggressive program of prosecution of criminals is also badly needed here, Bryans indicated. "San Diego County is the fastest growing county in the United States," he stated, "and with this tremendous increase in population the problems of law enforcement are multiplied. Such a condition calls for an aggressive, hard hitting approach to the problem, and if elected, I pledge that I will be your District Attorney both in word and in deed, representing all of the people, regardless of faction, race or creed. I will personally appear in court to prosecute cases when the duly elected District Attorney of the county should make such an appearance."

Bryans, who has been active in San Diego civic life for more than two decades, was born in Renville, North Dakota, March 1, 1909. In 1923 he came to San Diego with his family, attending Junior High School here that year. He returned to North Dakota, but came to San Diego again in 1930 to become a permanent resident.

Bryans' training includes work as a deputy sheriff, assistant Marshal of the San Diego Municipal Court, a tour of duty as City Prosecutor in the City Attorney's office, and an extensive and varied private practice of law.

He is married to the former Arlene Satran. They have two boys, George Bryans, Jr., 17 and Joseph Bryans, 15. Both boys attend Hoover High School. The family have been long-time members of the Normal Heights Methodist church, where they have taken an active role in church and civic work.

Bryans' club and fraternal affiliations include membership in the Masonic Orders, the Elks Club, the Eagles, the Chamber of Commerce and he is an alumni member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Bryans gained his law degree the hard way. While the Assistant Marshal in the Municipal Court he studied law at night with Balboa University, completing the four year course in three years.

The duty of the District Attorney is to act as the coordinator of all law enforcement agencies in the county. Qualified by fifteen years of active participation in various phases of law enforcement work in the county, Bryans pledged his full support to a program of active, personal cooperation between all such agencies in the county, stating "There has been a woeful lack of such cooperation on the part of the District Attorney's office during the past eight years."

Jack Schrade Lists Qualifications For 80th Assembly District Post

Jack Schrade, San Diego County rancher and business man, announced that he will seek the State Assembly post from the 80th District being vacated by Ralph Cloyd, candidate for the State Senate, on a platform of city and county cooperation.

Schrade, who owns a business ranch at Warner Hot Springs, is widely known throughout the coastal cities and the back country for his efforts to secure water for agricultural and urban areas in the 80th District and for his organization of and participation in service clubs, fairs, historical pageants, rodeos and horse shows.

He is now Vice President and 12-year director of the La Mesa, Lemon Grove and Spring Valley Irrigation District and is Past President of the San Diego County Irrigation Districts Officials' Association.

Schrade was the organizer of three service clubs in El Cajon and has taken a prominent role in state and county horsemen's associations, Sheriff's Rangers, Portola Trek Centennial, and the San Diego County Rodeo Association. He is at present a member of the El Cajon Mounted Police Posse.

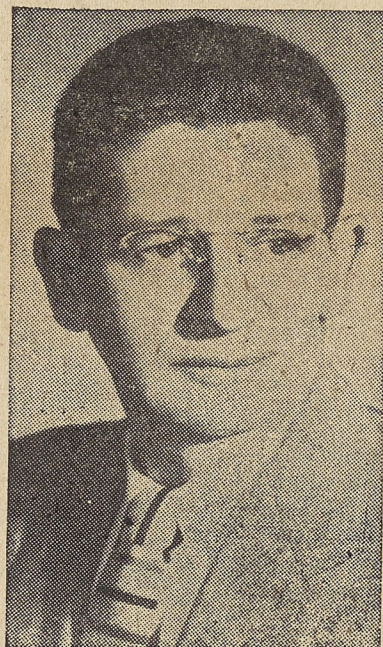

In declaring his candidacy for the Assembly assignment,

No 1954 License Tag Means Trouble

SACRAMENTO—Upon receipt of information that current registration renewals for the year of 1954 are practically complete, Commissioner B. R. Caldwell of the California State Highway Patrol has announced that the Patrol will immediately step up enforcement of those sections of the Vehicle Code relating to proper registration of motor vehicles.

Motorists are reminded that the one red tab for 1954 is to be securely attached to the rear license plate. Under no circumstances is the front plate to be removed, though all drivers are requested to dispose of the 1953 license tab.

Attention of all vehicle operators is also directed to the provision of the code which requires the registration certificate to be displayed in a manner that makes the name and address of the registered owner plainly visible and legible from outside the vehicle.

Schrade called for city and county unity in the fight for more water.

"I have worked for almost 30 years on the premise that the cities can't get along without the foothills, that the foothills can't get along without the cities and that none of us can get along without water," Schrade said. "We have to work together. Water is the life blood of the entire community and is the first necessity for continued growth and expansion. I will support bringing in more water from any reasonably economical source. 'Being a rancher I will naturally work for the agricultural interests, but I am just as much concerned with harbor development, roads, schools and industry.'"

Recently he was elected President of the famous Mother Goose Parade Association. Previously he has served as President of the El Cajon Valley and Bostonia Chamber of Commerce and has announced or presided at almost every parade, agricultural event and rodeo throughout the county.

Schrade is 51 years old and has been a resident of San Diego County since 1926. He lives with his wife, Zella, in El Cajon and Warner Hot Springs.

How sickness and sin may be overcome through prayer, bringing one into accord with the truth of God and man will be the topic of Christian Science services Sunday.

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon. Selections to be read from the Bible include the account (Matt. 9) of Christ Jesus' raising of Jairus' daughter from the dead, his restoring of sight to the two blind men, and his healing of the "dumb man possessed with a devil."

The Golden Text is from Jeremiah: "Heal me, O Lord, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved; for thou art my praise" (17:14).
